Description of service: The objective of this consultancy is to scope out existing opportunities for regional integration between energy and telecommunications sectors through infrastructure sharing, and design strategies to enable infrastructure sharing between these and other sectors. The study will be based on four strategic countries indicated by the IDB. The criteria for the selection of these countries will be: (i) ranking of the country in the infrastructure pillar of the IDB's Broadband Development index in digilac, giving priority to less developed countries; (ii) countries that have not yet developed telecommunication services over electric lines; and (iii) diversity, one country will be selected from each of the 4 clusters defined in the IDB's Broadband Development index, so that the results are useful and applicable for every country in LAC. Previous works developed by the IDB, in these and other countries, will be provided as inputs for the development of this study.

The aforementioned selection process has been completed and the contract has been awarded as follows:
