This notice appears in UN Development Business Online only and not in the printed version. Although this notice is assigned to a specific print issue, the official publication date of this notice is considered the date that it is posted online (see below).

The Office of the Multilateral Investment Fund (MIF) of the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB) has received financing from the Spanish General Cooperation Fund toward the cost of the Identification of Clean Energy Opportunities, and it intends to apply part of the proceeds for consulting services.

The services include providing assessment as to the level of knowledge and experience related to clean energy, energy efficiency and existing economic incentives in the three target countries (Colombia, Ecuador and Peru), and formulating the strategy and operational mechanisms for implementing different MIF supported projects in three countries. The consultancy is expected to continue over several months and include visits to each of the countries. In addition, the subcontracting of local consultants with the desired experience is strongly encouraged.

The MIF now invites eligible consultants (i.e., Spanish consulting firms) to express their interest in providing the services. Interested consultants must submit information establishing that they are qualified to perform the services (brochures, description of similar assignments, experience in similar conditions, availability of appropriate skills among participating staff, etc.). Identification of local consultants and their experiences should be included.

A consultant will be selected in accordance with the procedures set out in the IDB's Policies for the Selection and Contracting of Consultants, current edition.

Interested consultants may obtain further information at the address below. Inquiries should be received no later than 18 May 2006. The MIF/IDB will respond by 22 May 2006.

Expressions of interest must be delivered to the address below by 25 May 2006.
