General Information

Additional Information Regarding the Notes

1. Matters relating to MiFID II

The Bank does not fall under the scope of application of the MiFID II regime. Consequently, the Bank does not qualify as an “investment firm”, “manufacturer” or “distributor” for the purposes of MiFID II.

MIFID II product governance / Retail investors, professional investors and ECPs target market – Solely for the purposes of the manufacturer’s product approval process, the target market assessment in respect of the Notes has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for the Notes is eligible counterparties, professional clients and retail clients, each as defined in MiFID II; and (ii) all channels for distribution of the Notes are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Notes (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the manufacturer’s target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Notes (by either adopting or refining the manufacturer’s target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression MiFID II means Directive 2014/65/EU, as amended.

2. United States Federal Income Tax Matters:

The following supplements the discussion under the “Tax Matters” section of the Prospectus regarding the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Notes, and is subject to the limitations and exceptions set forth therein. Any tax disclosure in the Prospectus or this pricing supplement is of a general nature only, is not exhaustive of all possible tax considerations and is not intended to be, and should not be construed to be, legal, business or tax advice to any particular prospective investor. Each prospective investor should consult its own tax advisor as to the particular tax consequences to it of the acquisition, ownership, and disposition of the Notes, including the effects of applicable U.S. federal, state, and local tax laws and non-U.S. tax laws and possible changes in tax laws.

Due to a change in law since the date of the Prospectus, the second paragraph of “— Payments of Interest” under the “United States Holders” section should be updated to read as follows: “Interest paid by the Bank on the Notes constitutes income from sources outside the United States and will generally be “passive” income for purposes of computing the foreign tax credit.”

A United States holder will generally be taxed on interest on the Notes as ordinary income at the time such holder receives the interest or when it accrues, depending on the holder’s method of accounting for tax purposes. However, the portion of the first interest payment on the Notes that represents a return of the 39 days of accrued interest that a United States holder paid as part of the Issue Price of the Notes (“Pre-issuance accrued interest”) will not be treated as an interest payment for United States federal income tax purposes, and will accordingly not be includible in income.

Upon the sale, redemption or retirement of the Notes, a United States holder will generally recognize capital gain or loss equal to the difference, if any, between the amount realized by such holder, excluding any amounts attributable to accrued but unpaid interest (which will be treated as interest payments except to the extent attributable to pre-issuance accrued interest), and such holder’s tax basis in the Notes. A United States holder’s adjusted tax basis in the Notes generally will equal the cost of the Notes to the United States holder. Capital gain of individual taxpayers from the sale, redemption or retirement of the Notes will generally be treated as long-term capital gain or loss to the extent the United States holder has held the Notes for more than one year. Long-term capital gain of individual taxpayers may be eligible for reduced rates of taxation. The deductibility of capital loss is subject to significant limitations.

The Notes will be issued with a de minimis amount of original issue discount (“OID”). While a United States holder is generally not required to include de minimis OID in income prior to the sale or maturity of the Notes, under recently enacted legislation, United States holders that maintain certain types of financial statements and that are subject to the accrual method of tax accounting may be required to include the de minimis OID on the Notes in income no later than the time upon which they include such amounts in income on their financial statements. United States holders that maintain financial statements should consult their tax advisors regarding the tax consequences to them of this legislation.

Information with Respect to Foreign Financial Assets. Owners of “specified foreign financial assets” with an aggregate value in excess of U.S.$50,000 (and in some circumstances, a higher threshold) may be required to file an information report with respect to such assets with their tax returns. “Specified foreign financial assets” may include financial accounts maintained by foreign financial institutions, as well as the following, but only if they are held for investment and not held in accounts maintained by financial institutions: (i) stocks and securities issued by non-United States persons, (ii) financial instruments and contracts that have non-United States issuers or counterparties, and (iii) interests in foreign entities. Holders are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the application of this reporting requirement to their ownership of the Notes.

Medicare Tax. A United States holder that is an individual or estate, or a trust that does not fall into a special class of trusts that is exempt from such tax, is subject to a 3.8% tax (the “Medicare tax”) on the lesser of (1) the United States holder’s “net investment income” (or “undistributed net investment income” in the case of an estate or trust) for the relevant taxable year and (2) the excess of the United States holder’s modified adjusted gross income for the taxable year over a certain threshold (which in the case of individuals is between U.S.$125,000 and U.S.$250,000, depending on the individual’s circumstances). A holder’s net investment income will generally include its interest income and its net gains from the disposition of Notes, unless such interest income or net gains are derived in the ordinary course of the conduct of a trade or business (other than a trade or business that consists of certain passive or trading activities). United States holders that are individuals, estates or trusts are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the applicability of the Medicare tax to their income and gains in respect of their investment in the Notes.
